

Meet The Bitcoin Savings Plan

Compensate teams with better money

Meet the new employee benefit that retains talent, attracts top candidates and improves productivity. 65% of employees expressed dissatisfaction at work, citing a “lack of recognition and rewards” as a top response. Nearly 50% of workers expressed a preference for being paid in cryptocurrency. Block Rewards bridges the gap between employer costs and employee needs and meets these issues head-on with future-forward solutions such as the world’s first Bitcoin-based benefits solution.

Automated savings

Powered by Bitcoin’s unmatched 60% average annualized growth, Block Rewards transforms savings into effortless growth. Employees choose their savings amount, and we handle the rest.

Launch in days

Enhance your benefits package with Block Rewards, a group savings plan your employees will be excited about. With effortless onboarding, get started in days, not months, with seamless integration alongside your current benefits software. Block Rewards is designed to be simple to administer and to have a familiar user experience.

Enjoy the benefits of a workforce that has more control over their financial future, contributing to higher productivity, increased overall well-being and higher profits for your organization. Pay better without the added cost.

What others are saying

“This company is great, I have been using the Bitcoin Savings Plan at my company for years. They are always innovating and improving their services. If you are an employer looking to offer a unique way of retaining talent Block Rewards is an edge.”
